Dear Ms. Jones,

I am writing to express my support for the application submitted by Troy University to the U.S. Department of Education's Office of Postsecondary Education for the Child Care Access Means Parents in School (CCAMPIS) Program.

This funding, if awarded, will enable Troy University to provide campus-based child care and services to low-income students. The child care services will be provided at the Coleman Early Childhood and Family Engagement facility on the Dothan campus, as well as at 10 child care centers near each of the Troy University Alabama campuses.

The results of a needs assessment conducted on the Troy University student parent population during the 2019 Spring Semester revealed that almost 75% of those students were in need of child care services. Troy University's CCAMPIS Project is clearly needed and has great potential to positively impact the lives of the student parents and their children.

I hope you will agree that Troy University's application has merit and is worthy of funding. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have questions or need additional information.

Sincerely,

Doug Jones
United States Senator
